To whom it may concern,

We recently were in need of an overhaul in our computer system. Ron Boetger from Axxon Technologies came highly recommended and he didn't disappoint. He was very thorough in all aspects of the job. Ron explained our hardware options and compiled a system that was tailor made for our business. He was very efficient during the installation and helpful with any questions we had. The system he put in place was concise and easy to manage.

Ron has proven to be an outstanding resource post installation. He is very quick to respond to email and phone questions. It's comforting to know if a problem arises we have Ron there to follow through. We are very happy to recommend Ron Boetger from Axxon Technologies to anyone looking for an IT person to take care of business.

Sincerely,
